New York City April 6th 2025

To whom it may concern:

I, Ricardo Llorca, as a member of the faculty of The Juilliard School of Music, certify that I organized a series of lectures/concerts on "Folklore in Classical Music" at The Juilliard School in the Fall Semester of 2016. For these lectures and concerts I had the participation of spanish composer Sonia Megías and spanish poet Eva Guillamón, who gave a master class at Juilliard and a recital on October 13th 2016 with their group "Dúa de Pel", a musical duet singing a cappella with a soft instrumental accompaniment, that plunged into the roots of Spanish tradition. Their works were a deep listening exercise that connected the students with a continuous present from yesterday to the music of tomorrow.

Therefore, I hereby sign in New York City on April 6th, 2025.

Sincerely,

Ricardo Llorca
